CITY OF SEATTLE IS TIED UP BY STRIKE

Seattle, Wash., Dec. 6.—A general strike was declared here at 10 a. m. today. It grew out of the demands of thirty thousand shipyard workers.

Practically all industry was at a standstill.

Street cars ceased running. Electric power was cut off and there was no gas except to hospitals.

Newspapers, including labor papers, suspended editions.

Distributions of food was curtailed, allowance being made to supply milk to hospitals and for babies.

The union plans to run fifteen public eating halls, where the general public, as well as the strikers will be given meals at stated hours at small cost. Practically all restaurants closed this morning, even before the strike hour. The strike effects approximate-

SPLENDID REPORT IS RECEIVED FROM BEAVERCREEK TP.

With four school districts yet to be heard from in Beaver Creek township, a total of $592.20 has been subscribed to the Armenian Relief fund campaign in that territory.

This report was made Thursday by Rev. J. F. Tapey, who is solicitor for the township and believes that when all of the districts in his territory have been heard from that the township will nearly double its quota. The township quota is $420.

With the end of the campaign drawing nearer every day, those in charge of the campaign are anxious that no stone be left unturned in the effort to reach the goal set for this county. So far the county is still about $1,000 behind in its quota and solicitors are urged to get behind the movement quickly in order that it will not lag behind.

So far a number of subscriptions have been made unsolicited, some of them in cases where the solicitor overlooked or had not yet reached the subscriber. Cases of this sort are being turned up frequently when people who are unsolicited but still anxious to give, have sent in their subscription by mail or through some other source. It is estimated that quite a number of voluntary subscriptions have been received.

Reports from Beaver Creek Township school district are as follows: No. 1—$38.60; No. 2—$47.50; No. 3—no report; No. 4—$25; No. 5—no report; No. 6—$220; No. 7—$19.50; No. 8—$22.50; No. 9—$24; No. 10—no report; No. 11—no report; No. 12, no report; No. 13—$170.50; Special District—$19.50. WHAT "BUSY BERTHAS" DID DURING SIEGE OF PARIS

Ruins of a Paris hospital shelled by a "Big Bertha."

It might be a good plan for the peace delegates to visit this hospital every morning for the next few months just as a matter of course to refresh their memory. This photograph which has just been released by the French government shows the destruction caused by German "Big Berthas."

Not only the hospital buildings but even the helpless patients were victims of the huge German guns during the siege of Paris.

YOU WILL HAVE TO DIE TO AVOID THE PAYMENT OF TAXES

Washington, Feb. 6.—"Twil be a strange day in 1919 when an average citizen doesn't pay a federal tax of some sort.

If you are not hit daily by an income tax, then you may contribute to tobacco revenue. Or perhaps a dish of ice cream. If you don't use either, then its the movie assessment.

Or you may take a little train trip and donate to the treasury on both ticket and Pullman. And if you change your mind and phone long distance to say you won't be there, there's the tax on phone call.

And if you pay your insurance premium—more taxes.

Perhaps your thirst calls for near-beer—more tax—even real liquor can get in on this thirst tax yet a while.

And there is your club dues tax. Elimination of the nineteenth hole, however, may equalize that item for you.

But cheer up the symphony orchestra can still "symp" untaxed.

And there's the excise taxes—on everything you can think of.

Take a joy ride in a taxed auto. Step off a little rag accompanied by a taxed piano, your lady chewing taxed gum, wearing taxed clothes. Then cool off by a taxed electric fan. And take a little drink out of a taxed thermos bottle.

CRISIS IN LONDON STRIKES EXPECTED WITHIN FEW HOURS

London, Feb. 6.—A crisis in the London strikes was expected to be reached today, when the engineers and electrical unions were expected to walk out. In the cases of the latter, the government had taken definite steps toward intervention through an order in council placing the workers under the defense of the realm act. The order provided that any person interfering with the city's electrical supply would be subject to six months' imprisonment and $500 fine.

The government, without directly intervening, had also adopted measures to relieve the transportation tie up caused by the subway strike.

Great numbers of motor lorries have been placed at the disposal of the people who otherwise would have been forced to walk long distances through the slush and snow to their work.

TRAFFIC IN LONDON HALTED BY STRIKE

London, Feb. 6.—Traffic on the London-Brighton railway was halted today, when engineers struck in sympathy with the subway employees.

FIRE NEARLY DESTROYS HOUSE ON E. SECOND ST.

Fire which had made considerable headway when the fire department arrived, practically totally destroyed the residence owned and occupied by John Anderson, at 1028 East Church street about 6 o'clock Wednesday evening.

While fighting the blaze, which kept the department busy for about two hours, Earl Barnes, fireman, was injured when a section of studding and weather boarding fell, striking him on the side of the head. He was taken to the Espee hospital in the fire truck but was better Thursday morning.

It is not known how the conflagration started, but it is rumored that the blaze was caused by children playing with carbide, by adding water to it, causing a gas which they ignited with matches, the flames shooting up and catching the house. The building was a frame structure of four rooms and when the department arrived the flames were rampant and almost beyond control. The rear part of the house was burned the worst but only the shell remains of the front part. Fortunately both the loss to building and contents is covered by insurance.

The department was called to the fire at 5:30 Wednesday evening and did not return until 8:10.

BILL PROVIDES FOR BONUS FOR SOLDIERS SAILORS AND NURSES

By L. C. Martin.

Washington, Feb. 6.—Conference reports on America's six billion dollar war revenue bill—greatest in this nation's history—was presented to the house today by Chairman Kitchin of the Ways and Means committee.

In addition to raising $6,000,000,000 in taxes the bill gives every soldier, sailor and marine and all women nurses in the American forces a bonus of $60 upon discharge. This means an appropriation of more than $400,000,000. Following are the chief provisions of the bill:

Income tax on individuals.

The normal income tax for 1918 is 6 per cent on incomes up to $4,000 and 12 per cent on higher incomes. After 1918 the normal is four per cent on incomes to $4,000 and 8 per cent on those over $4,000. The present normal is four per cent.

Exemptions of $1,000 for a single person and $2,000 for a married one, with $200 additional for cash dependent under 18 remain as at present. The income surtax rates begin at one per cent in incomes of $5,000 to $6,000 and run off sixty-five per cent on incomes of over $1,000,000. Present surtaxes are lower in the middle and higher incomes, the highest rate in the present law being 50 per cent on incomes of more than $1,000,000.

Partnerships and personal service corporations pay the tax as individuals, not as corporations.

The corporation income tax for 1918 is 12 per cent and thereafter

10 per cent. The present rate is 6 per cent.

Special provision is made for corporations owning oil or gas wells or mines. Because of the hazards and the rapid depletion a special reduction for depletion and improvements is allowed. It is based on the face market values in the taxable year.

The bill allows income taxes to be paid in one or four installments as the tax payer chooses. The first installment is due when the return is filed, the second three months later, the third in six and the last in nine months.

Provision is made for both war and excess profits tax in the fiscal year, but after that, the war profits tax comes off, except in certain specified cases where war contracts run over in later years.

The excess profits tax for 1918-1919 is 30 per cent of profits up to 20 per cent and 65 per cent of all profits over 20 per cent. Before figuring the tax the tax payer deducts from his net income three thousand plus eight per cent of his capital, as an excess profits exemption. Concerns making less than $3,000 a year net income, pay no excess profits. For 1919-20 and thereafter, the rates are 20 per cent of profits up to twenty per cent and 40 per cent of all profits over 20 per cent.

The war profits tax for the fiscal year is the difference between eighty per cent of the net income after deducting the war profits credit and the amount of the excess profits tax figures under the preceding provision.

COUGHED NIGHT AND DAY FOR TWO YEARS

Mr. Parkhurst tells how he found quick relief from chronic bronchial trouble.

"Two years ago, I had an attack of la grippe which left me with a bad cough. Finally this became a case of chronic bronchial asthma, and four doctors told me it could not be cured. I commenced taking everything my friends recommended, but I got worse instead of better. For two years, I was unable to do any work except to cough constantly night and day, which was the hardest work I ever did. Finally I got hold of Milks Emulsion. It benefited me so much, right from the start, that it came as a God-send. In two months I was perfectly cured. I gained in health, strength and flesh rapidly."—J. M. Parkhurst, Leon St., W. BIG BUNCH OF PRISONERS GOING TO REFORMATORY

The biggest crowd of prisoners ever taken away from Xenia in one bunch, at least in recent years, went to the Mansfield Reformatory Thursday in custody of Deputy Sheriff George A. Birch and Juvenile Court Officer J. E. Watts. They lead eight men to the reform institution.

The prisoners are all men who were indicted by the grand jury at its session Monday, and all of whom entered pleas of guilty to the charges against them.

Melvin Watson and Lewis Overstreet, colored boys, entered pleas of guilty Wednesday morning to highway robbery and told the story of the manner in which they arranged and executed an assault on Harrison Shingledecker and two others. The court told Watson that he would have felt inclined to be lenient in his case except for the seriousness of the crime. He had never been in trouble before. The two men were given indeterminate sentences of from one to 15 years in the Mansfield institution.

Edward Dickerson, who pleaded guilty Wednesday and was given an indeterminate sentence to Mansfield.

Joe Hicks, Thomas Jone, John Kizzie and James Frazer, entered pleas of guilty Tuesday, to the charge of burglary on which they were jointly indicted. John Neeks who was committed to the reformatory by Juvenile Judge J. C. Marshall, will accompany the seven other prisoners to the institution Thursday.

Ends Stubborn Coughs in a Hurry

For real effectiveness, this old home-made remedy has no equal. Easily and cheaply prepared.

You'll never know how quickly a bad cough can be conquered, until you try this famous old home-made remedy. Any one who has coughed all day and all night, will say that the immediate relief given is almost like magic. It takes but a moment to prepare, and really there is nothing better for coughs.

Into a pint bottle, put 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. Either way, the full pint saves about two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, and gives you a more positive, effective remedy. It keeps perfectly and tastes pleasant—children like it.

You can feel this take hold instantly, soothing and healing the membranes in all the air passages. It promptly loosens a dry, tight cough, and soon you will notice the phlegm thin out and then disappear altogether. A day's use will usually break up an ordinary throat or chest cold, and it is also splendid for bronchitis, croup, whooping cough, and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known as the most reliable remedy for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

MANY PAY TRIBUTE TO MEMORY OF WILLIAM E. EAVEY

Many business men who were his patrons in the territory which he served for years as salesman, came to Xenia to attend the funeral services for William E. Eavey, president of The Eavey Wholesale Grocery Company, which were held at his late home on South Detroit street, at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Their presence in such numbers indicated the admiration and respect held by these men for Mr. Eavey whom they had met in intimate business relation so often, and their loyalty to the old house of which he had succeeded his father as head.

The Rev. Thomas Cooke, rector of Christ Episcopal church, Dayton, officiated at the service. The impressive Episcopal ritual for the burial of the dead was read, and the clergyman gave a funeral discourse. There was no music, the service being simplicity itself.

The body was born to the Eavey family plot in Woodland for interment, and serving as pallbearers were the following relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Eavey: H. Earl Eavey, Arthur H. Perfect, Clyde L. and W. B. McCallister, John Spahr, Ben Chambliss, Chester Hinkle, Dilver Belden and Carl Van Horn. The casket was hidden beneath a mass of bloom, tributes from business and lodge associates, and personal friends.

Business men who came for the funeral were: F. M. Ormsby, S. C. Tatters, Frank Wise, W. M. Wise, Jas. Baker, of West Jefferson; from Loveland, B. B. Thomas, S. J. Casey, C. W. Stokes, L. L. PRETTY WEDDING IS SOLEMNIZED ON WEDNESDAY

In the presence of a small company of guests, Miss Adah D. Swindler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Denver Swindler, became the bride of William Wilson Short, the ceremony taking place at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Denver Swindler, on Home avenue. The Rev. H. J. Jewett, of Trinity church, the bride's pastor, officiated.

The home was in decorations of yellow and white for the nuptials. Unattended the bride took her places before the officiating clergyman, and the impressive ring ceremony of the Methodist Episcopal church was performed. The bride was attired in taupe colored suit, with georgette blouse in the same shade and piped with blue. She wore a corsage bouquet of pink and white sweet peas.

Following the service, a two course luncheon was served. At the bride's table there were covers for eight. Yellow and white narcissi centered the table, and it was lighted with yellow candles. Cards decorated in yellow, marked the places. There were covers for the bridegroom and bride, Misses Elva Little, Pauline Hurley, Reva Moore and Messrs. Leroy Short, Frank Turner and Frank Short.

Mr. and Mrs. Short left Xenia Thursday morning for a trip to Loveland, where they will spend a few days visiting at the home of relatives. Mrs. Short wore away her taupe suit with fur trimmings, a taupe hat and footwear to match.

Mr. and Mrs. Short will go to house-keeping in the home which they have prepared on the farm of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Short, on the Wilmington pike. Both are well known and favorite young people.

JOHN KIERNAN HAS RE-UNION WITH BUNCH OF XENIA BOYS

John Kiernan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kiernan of this city, who is in the Coast Artillery, tells interestingly in a letter home of his experience in running into the Greene County boys of the 330th Infantry at Camp Stuart. The letter follows:

"Yesterday I saw more Xenia fellows at one time than I ever saw before. I went to Newport News to see Jim Curlett, and it was about as easy as finding the last shot that was fired in the war.

"I went over to the administration building and they directed me to a bunch of engineers who just came back, and they sent me to some Aero Squadron. Then I saw a guy who had a black triangle with a monogram in the center on his sleeve, and I asked him if he knew where I could find the 83rd Division and he showed me. I asked him if he was from Dayton. He said he was from Dayton. I asked him where I could find some Xenia guys and he told me to hunt up Co. K. I looked up Co. K and found Bernard Stier and John Cyphers. They told me to go upstairs and I would find Jim Curlett, but he had gone up town. They told me to go in the office and I would find 'Budgum' Lunn, and there he was. I showed him the picture of the Xenia court house and he was tickled to death. He happened to see the picture of you and Mrs. Haller and he said 'Well, I'll be darned if there ain't Mrs. Haller.'"

"He took me over to another barracks and there were George Geiger and Chauncey Webster. Oh boy! I was tickled to see them! We just sat and talked the whole afternoon about things that happened while they were in France. I had some Gazettes with me and you should have seen them grab them. You would have thought it was the 'funny paper.' I never knew it was so popular. All the 330th Regiment wears a black triangle with the word Ohio in the form of a monogram in the center, on their left sleeve.

"Well this is all that happened, but it was enough to make one's heart go flip-flop, so I must close.

"JOHN."

ASTONISHING LANGUAGE BY A MINISTER.

The Brooklyn Eagle is authority for quoting Rev. Dr. John L. Belford, rector of the Church of the Nativity, in the February issue of the "Monitor," in regard to the prohibition amendment, as saying:

"This iniquitous law is here, and it looks as if it was here to stay for a long time. It is the worst invasion of personal liberty the world has ever seen. It is the will of a small minority of narrow-minded bigots who have availed themselves of a weak spot in the constitution and forced upon the majority a law which is as iniquitous as it is odious. It is an unjust law. No one is bound to obey it. No one should have the least scruple about evading it, breaking it or defying it."

"How, you will ask, could such a law be enacted? It owes its existence to a band of fanatical thugs and blackmailers. They have held up legislators as truly as ever a highwayman held up his victim. They have browbeaten, bulldozed, threatened and frightened men into supporting a measure which every decent man loathes and every honest man despises."

"They hired hundreds of spies, detectives and investigators, put them on the track of every legislator who would not promise to support their iniquitous measure, and then, when they had crawled through the sewers and strained the consciences for scandal, they produced their vile evidence and bade the victim deliver his vote or accept the infamy of exposure."

"We are astonished that any minister of Christ should use such language about the glorious movement to make our country a sober nation. The best men in forty-four Legislatures out of the forty-eight states of this Union have endorsed the prohibition amendment by large majorities. Are you right, Mr. Belford, and all these others wrong? Hadn't you better pray over the subject, brother?"

Isn't your language queer for one who is supposed to be the instructor of the young men of your church? What do you do with the words of your Bible which say:

"Woe to the crown of pride, to the drunkards of Ephraim, whose glorious beauty is a fading flower. The crown of pride, the drunkards of Ephraim, shall be trodden under foot. They have erred through wine, and through strong drink are out of the way; the priest and the prophet have erred through strong drink; they are swallowed up of wine, they are out of the way through strong drink; they err in vision, they stumble in judgment. For all tables are full of vomit and filthiness, so that there is no place clean." "Wine is a mocker, strong drink is raging; and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise. Who hath we? Who hath sorrow? Who hath contentions? who hath babbling? who hath wounds without cause? who hath redness of eyes? They that tarry long at the wine. At the last it biteth like a serpent, and stingeth like an adder."

I think you will admit, Brother Belford, that Gladstone was a man whose opinion was valuable. He said: "Intoxicating drink has produced more deadly evils than all those caused to mankind by the great scourges of war, famine and pestilence combined."

And, Brother Belford, we call your attention to another gentleman of the "cloth," whose views you ought to respect, the great Phillips Brooks. He said: "If we could sweep, intemperance out of the country, there would hardly be poverty enough left to give exercise to the charitable impulses."

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Mr. Harry Seibert and wife have moved to town and are now occupying a house on Dayton Hill.

The smiling face of our friend Wm. Brady of the firm of Brady & Steinfeld, was seen in its city today. William has been on the road for a Cincinnati firm for many years and only gets to Xenia occasionally.

Messrs. R. R. Grieve and Foss Zartman are visitors in Springfield today.

Thearl White, who formerly worked at the Casino alley, has accepted a position at the Xenia Steam Laundry. Thearl's many friends wish him success in his new work.

Mr. John Beatty, who was for so long employed at Adair's furniture store, after spending resumed his old position in that establishment, dropping into the harness "without" the slip of a cog.

Dare to Turn Back.

It often requires courage to turn back when we have taken a wrong step, but it is easier to turn back after the first step than after the second or third, and much safer and pleasanter.

A HOMESICK WOMAN.

A correspondent to the New York Times is authority for the statement that the Kaiserin is homesick. Probably she is. Because we are not Huns, we do not war upon women, and therefore will omit a lot we might say on the subject of that particular woman's homesickness.

But is it presumably any more bitter than the homesickness of many a Belgian and French wife and mother, who is not only separated from her home by weary miles, but by the destruction of that home? Is the longing of the Kaiserin to spend her declining days among her children and grandchildren any more intense than that of the thousands of her husband's victims, and who may long till death takes them, but until then may never more see their beloved?

It is especially heart-rending that the Kaiserin longs for her own home at Potsdam, a beautiful estate wooded and watered, garden and tended, when so many acres of what was smiling country lie waste under the imprint of the Kaiser's heel?

Is there not a certain justice in this punishment by her natural longings of one German woman? A woman proud and important, who condoned by her silence and her presence at the Kaiser's side, unspeakable wrongs?

"Vengeance is mine; I will repay," said the Lord. The Kaiserin is homesick.

THE PROMOTER'S WIFE

BY JANE PHELPS.

BARBARA'S FIRST LOVE LETTER CHAPTER IV.

Neil's letter commenced: "Dear little friend Bab: I miss you more than I can tell you. I miss our walks together, our tennis, and the croquet—even if you did always beat me. New York seems awfully hot and stuffy after the cool, shaded streets of Huntington. I find myself wishing that I were sitting in the hammock with you instead of on a roof garden, these stifling nights. You know nothing of summer heat. Your cool, grass grown, shaded village has nothing in common with the sun-baked streets of this big town."

"Some day I am coming back for another visit. Will you be just as kind to me, or shall I find you have changed—perhaps (awful thought!) married to some of those good hearted youths I met? Please don't bab. I should hate to find you Mrs. Somebody. Instead of Barbara Hill, one of the dearest playfellows a man ever had."

"Tell me all about yourself, Bab. I am going to send you some new books occasionally, something I am reading. Then we can talk about it in our letters. Would that please you?" "Remember me to your father and mother. They were good to spare you to me so often. Really, as I look back, I seem to have rather monopolized you during my stay with Aunt Grace. By the way, she is awfully fond of you. Perhaps you already know it, doubtless you do. But in view of the fact that she told me, and that she is a relative of mine, go and sit with her occasionally, won't you? I see that I haven't given you any real reason that you should, but do just the same."

"I am having some pictures taken for mother. She has bawled me to death for months to have my face put on a card. Would you like one? Don't be afraid to say 'no.' It won't hurt—yes it will too. I find that I really want you to have one."

"This is quite a long letter for a first one, isn't it, Bab? Do write me soon. I shall be looking for a letter every day now until I receive it."

Very sincerely,
NEIL FORBES.

My first man letter. Yet no one could call it a love letter. I thought as I pressed it to my lips after reading it. How could he make fun about my getting married? That hurt. Just as if I would think of marrying one of the village boys, now—after meeting him.

I was delighted that he proposed sending me books he was reading. It would seem like being together to talk of them in our letters. But what delighted me most was that I was to have his picture. I had tried to get up my courage to ask for it before he left, but couldn't. Now I was glad!

Everyday Etiquette

"I would like to know if it would be proper to wear my boudoir cap to breakfast when visiting," was Marie's query.

"If your hostess appears at breakfast wearing a negligee and a cap, you may feel free to do so, but do not wear one unless you are quite sure that she will appear in one and of course do not wear one with anything but a negligee, advised her friend.

Gift "for Her Neck."

A story is told of a young Japanese engineering apprentice in connection with the Christmas custom of kissing. He was serving his time in the north of England, and was astonished when a waitress at the dining-room which he regularly frequented kissed him under the mistletoe. On its being explained to him that a present was expected in return, he suggested a pair of gloves. The waitress, however, had heard that he was immensely wealthy, and gently hinted that something for her neck would be more acceptable. When the present arrived next day she confessed up visions of a pearl necklace as she tremblingly unfolded the parcel. Then was disclosed to her disappointed gaze a Jap's idea of "something for her neck." It took the shape of a bar of soap!

Deep Stuff.

London Answers tells the story of a musical student who, one night at Queen's Hall, slithered up to a couple of long-haired professors in the hope of hearing some leafed conversation. "Ten cents each," one of the professors was observing, "and not even new-fad!"

FOE DRIVEN BACK IN DISORDER

Copenhagen, Feb. 6. — Dispatches from Archangel, Russia, state that heavy losses were inflicted on the Bolsheviks by the American forces Tuesday and the enemy was driven back in disorder from the village of Vistavka, on the Vaga. The American casualties were five killed and several wounded. Many Bolshevik soldiers were taken prisoner by the Americans.

The enemy early in the morning began an attack with field guns and machine guns under cover of a shrapnel and high explosive barrage, essayed to break through with infantry in the afternoon at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. The American troops, who were alerted after their retirement from Vistavka and were now established in a good position, poured a heavy fire from artillery and machine guns into the charging Bolsheviks, whose ranks broke and fled into the woods.

Captured Bolsheviks declared that the enemy had planned a flank attack simultaneously with the frontal movement, but this was abandoned when the Vistavka attempt failed.

Chinese and Manchurian troops are now included in the Bolshevik forces opposing the Americans on the Vaga. So far these have been held in reserve, but the Americans are preparing a warm reception for the yellow soldiers if they appear in the fighting line, in view of stories reaching them of the Manchurian treatment of prisoners in the Baltic provinces.

Defeat of the enemy on the Vaga, together with his failure on the Dvina, typifies the spirit of the American and other allied troops, who are fighting with the utmost determination to hold their positions until reinforcements can reach them. These defeats have considerably lowered the enemy morale, but the Bolsheviks are being constantly reinforced, and while their offensive has been temporarily checked, there are indications that it will be renewed when fresh Bolshevik forces reach the line.

Music.

Music is the crystallization of sound. There is something in the effect of a harmonious voice upon the disposition of its neighborhood analogous to the law of crystals. It centralizes itself and sounds like the published law of things. If the law of the universe were to be audibly promulgated, no mortal law giver would suspect it, for it would be a finer melody than his ears ever attended to. It would be sphere music. . . . When I hear music I feel no danger. I am invulnerable. I see no foe. I am related to the earliest times and to the latest.—Thoreau.

JOB FOR EVERY SOLDIER

Baker Says It Is the Vital Thing in America at This Time.

Washington, Feb. 6. — "Every soldier who put on the uniform of the United States, who fought, or trained to fight, will have a job if he wants one," Secretary Baker declared in delivering the opening address at the fourteenth annual convention of the national rivers and harbors congress.

The secretary emphasized the duty of American business men to cooperate in what the government was doing in this direction, and said that every chamber of commerce, every board of trade or other similar organization should realize the need for its participation. The vital thing in America at this time, Secretary Baker said, is for everyone to get to work, and river and harbor projects would help find employment for a large number of men. River transportation offers the more economical form than rail transportation, but both land and water should be equally utilized.

IMPROVING IT

"How long has she been talking to the crowd?"
"Two hours."
"Why doesn't she stop?"
"Stop? Why, this is her first chance."

Be Specific.

For business purposes, for social purposes, for any purposes in life, a rule that should admit of no exceptions is: "Be specific in everything you say. Don't take it for granted that vague, general statements will properly convey your meaning." General statements, please remember, leave wide room for inference, and there is always the liability that a wrong inference will be drawn.

Time Fiddling.
There is a lot of time added away to this world, one way and another, by good people who have the best of intentions. We will venture to assert, along this line, that more time is fiddled away by folks who peek at languages than in any other manner. Almost everybody is seized at some stage in his life with a desire to add another tongue to his own, but it usually results in nothing more than time wasted.

JOHN DAVIDSON CONNECTED WITH NEW YORK COMPANY

John M. Davidson of this city, has recently become connected with the New York office of the Ethridge Association of Artists, an institution unique and most distinctive in its character, and widely known among persons connected with high class publications.

Mr. Davidson is employed as a specialist by the concern and his duties are explained in the following extracts from letters sent by the Association to its clients:

"We believe you will be interested in a man and a service we have just made a part of our organization. He specializes in the preparation of booklets, catalogs and direct by-mail advertising of all kinds. Mr. Davidson is a rare combination of intensely practical things; he makes his own sketches. He is creative—plots out and plans the reason for printed matter. He is an experienced writer on advertising subjects. He knows paper, grades, stocks, colors, costs, economical cutting, etc. He can figure out jobs and give swift, reliable-on-the-spot advice.

"For our part, we think such an 'all-around' man is a distinct find. It isn't very often that all of the essential qualifications are discovered under one mental roof. Frankly, Mr. Davidson is the first man we have ever encountered who possessed this broad experience. It means that he can visit you and your plant and take complete charge of a printing problem, from the laying out of the dummy, to the writing of text, composition of pages, typography, selection of paper, number of colors, and the actual figuring of costs. And finally Mr. Davidson personally supervises the printing and delivery.

The Ethridge Association has New York and Chicago offices.

Cured His RUPTURE

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusts did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation. If you write to me, Eugene M. Pullen, Carpenter, 2452 Marceline Avenue, Monaca, N. J., I will cut out this notice and show it to any other who is ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.

Starving in the Midst of Plenty

Acid-Stomach Steals Strength and Good Feelings From Millions

One of the worst features of acid-stomach is that very often it literally starves its victim in the midst of plenty. And the strange thing about it is that the people with acid-stomachs seldom know what their trouble really is.

No matter how good or wholesome the food may be, or how much they eat, they do not gain in strength. This is clearly explained by the fact that an acid-stomach cannot properly digest food. Instead of healthy, normal digestion, the excess acid causes the food to sour and ferment. Then when this mass of sour, fermented food, charged with excess acid, passes into the intestines, it becomes the breeding place for all kinds of germs and toxic poisons, which in turn are absorbed into the blood and in this way distributed throughout the entire body. And that is exactly why it is that so many thousands of people eat and eat and keep on eating and yet are literally starving in the midst of plenty. Their acid-stomachs make it absolutely impossible for them to get the full measure of nourishment out of their food. And it doesn't take long for this poor nourishment to show its ill effects in a weakened, emaciated body.

You may say: "My stomach doesn't hurt me." That may be true because many victims of acid-stomach do not actually suffer stomach pains. Then again, there are millions who do suffer all kinds of aches and pains—headaches, rheumatic twinges, gout, lumbago, pains around the heart and in the chest—who never dream that an acid-stomach is the real cause of the trouble.

Naturally, the sensible thing to do is to strike right at the very cause of this trouble and clean the excess acid out of the stomach. There is a quick, easy way to do this. A wonderful new remedy quickly removes the excess acid without the slightest discomfort. It is EATONIC. Made in the form of tablets—they are good to eat—just like a bit of candy. They literally absorb the injurious excess acid and carry it away through the intestines. They also drive the blast out of the body—in fact you can fairly feel it work. Make a test of EATONIC in your own case today. Get a big box of EATONIC from your druggist. See for yourself how surely it brings quick relief in those painful attacks of indigestion, bitter heartburn, belching, disgusting food repeating, that awful bloated, lumpy feeling after eating and other stomach troubles. It's a complete stomach cure that works like a charm. You can get it at any drug store, or you like and want it, a food and health fort without cost to you. It's a real after effects.

EATONIC does not relieve, it returns it to your druggist and get your money back. So if you have the slightest question about your health—if you feel you are not getting all the strength out of your food—if you are not feeling tip-top, ready for your work, full of vim and vigor—do give EATONIC a fair trial this very day and see how much better you will feel.

R. HAYES HAMILTON HAS JOYOUS MEETING WITH GREENE CO. BOYS

Xenia met Xenia when R. Hayes Hamilton, Xenia boy, and author of the Hamilton Travelogues, a series of lectures on America, met the Greene County contingent of soldiers with the 330th Infantry at Newport News last week. Mr. Hamilton gives a detailed account of the interesting experience in the following letter to this paper:

Newport News, Va.,
February First.

I was sent by the National War
Council on Training Camp Activities to the Tidewater District here in Virginia this week in order to meet some of the big ships that arrived with some of the overseas boys. My mission here was a special one to give the boys their first impressions of "America" through my pictures and to let them know that the whole country, from the east to the west was anxiously waiting for them. You can imagine my surprise when I found that the "Martha Washington" contained the Ohio boys and I thought that possibly there would be some on there that I would know. I had only left the hotel on the way to the wharf when a fellow hailed me—
"Hello there, Xenia." I found the owner of this welcome greeting to be Sgt. James Curlett from Xenia. He was on his way to Camp Stuart near here, and as luck would have it I was to lecture there that very evening. I took him to the hotel where we had dinner, and during our little "welcome home visit" he told me that all of Greene County and Xenia was at this camp. He told me that he would hurry to the camp and round up all the boys and have them there to hear me and see the pictures. This was not necessary as when I arrived at the Margaret Wilson Y. M. C. A., where I was to speak, I was told by Sgt. John Cyphers (an old school-mate at Goes, Ohio) that Walter Lunn had announced and heralded my coming to the entire company at "retreat." They were surely there "en masse," and I had one grand visit and hand shake with each and every one of them. Not only Xenia was well represented but also Washington C.
H., Cedarville, Jamestown, Yellow Springs and from all parts of the county. I found them all in tip-top shape and all very glad to get back to America and by the time this reaches you they will be on their way to Camp Sherman. I had each of them sign his name, and I am enclosing you herewith the complete roster.
Lawrence Whittington and Chaplain
Graham are also located in this town.
I shall hurry and get this note off to you from Washington. Have just completed a series of nine lectures, including one at the Naval Base in Norfolk, Virginia, and the famous Fortress Monroe at Old Point Comfort.

R. HAYES HAMILTON.

Appended to the letter was a paper bearing the personal signatures, titles and in some cases the nicknames of the Greene County boys.
Represented on this list are: Corporal
David F. "Asthma" Shroades, Corporal Arthur Heaton, Corporal R.
Cyphers, Cook Harry "Pug" Lewis,
Ralph "Blanche" Pierstine, Sergeant
W. A. "Woolworth" Hoover, Buglers

BRENNAN 'SHOWS 'EM' OUT IN MISSOURI

Clippings from two Missouri newspapers have been received here showing pictures and an article on a lecture delivered by W. F. Brennan, former Mayor of Xenia, in the interests of the N. C. R., of Dayton, in that state.

Mr. Brennan is delivering his lectures on "The Troubles of a Retail Merchant," illustrated with photos and moving pictures, and shows the career of "J. White," retail merchant.
The lecture was at one time presented before the members of the Xenia Business Men's Association.
Pictures taken from the illustrated lecture and good pictures of Mr. Brennan himself were run with the article.

Moving Wheel.

The question is asked: "Which part of a carriage wheel moves faster, the top or bottom?" All depends upon what is meant by this question. If by this is meant the speed of the rim of wheel in relation to its axis (hub), then there is no difference; if it relates to carriage in motion, then the top moves faster. When the forward motion of the carriage is considered, the point of contact of the wheel with the ground (not the hub) becomes the momentary center of a circle, of which the radius is the diameter of the wheel. In a partial revolution, therefore, the point at the top of the wheel would have described a much greater arc than the point at the bottom, in the same time. A practical demonstration can be had by taking a wheel of any kind, and marking points at top and bottom. Then note their course through a quarter revolution. Another proof: An instantaneous photograph of a carriage in motion shows the upper part of wheels as a blur, while the spokes in lower parts are distinctly seen.

Not Mercenary.

"An artist is supposed to have a fine disregard for money." "And they live up to that tradition. I've known many of them to let a $5,000 picture go for ten plunks."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

GIVE CHARMING PARTY IN THEIR LOVELY NEW HOME

Their handsome home on West Church street was opened by Mrs. Charles A. Kelble and Miss Gladys Kelble, Wednesday afternoon to a large company and between the hours of one thirty and six o'clock, two hundred and seventy five guests were received in the lovely rose and gray music room.

The Kelble home is the old Carey homestead, and as such it was known for years to Xenia people. Mr. and Mrs. Kelble became the owners of the house a few months ago, and they converted it into one of the most attractive of Xenia's prettier homes, both within and without. The house that was so long closed, now bright and lovely, and hospitable, was fragrant Wednesday with the perfume of the myriad flowers, and filled with attractively gowned women, who wandered through the large rooms, and admired the exquisite furnishings.

Mrs. Kelble received in a gown of red brocade satin, with black tulle and jet, and she wore a corsage bou-quet of American Beauty roses. Miss Kelble, whose fair hair and skin contrasts with her mother's brunette coloring, was wearing lavender satin with an overdress of silver lace and trimmings of rosebuds. Her flowers were pink rose buds and forget-me-nots worn at the corsage.

Harmonizing with the rose hangings in the music room were the rose carnations in three large wicker baskets in this room where the guests were received.

There were American Beauty roses and narcissus in the dining room and den, where the guests were served. In the living room and throughout the upstairs rooms there were baskets of vari colored sweet peas. In the hallway a big basket of crimson carnations were a bright spot of color.

Mrs. Reed Madden and Mrs. A. J. Kestle poured the coffee in the dining room throughout the afternoon, and assisting in the room were the Misses Louise Parrett, Lois Babb, Eleanor Carr and Elizabeth Galloway. In the den, an attractive little room across the hallway, Mrs. Leon Spahr, Miss Jessie Long, Mrs. Clyde Scott, Mrs. Harry Sohn, Mrs. N. T. Pavey and Mrs. Lewis Gregg assisted at the coffee urn and in serving the bonbons.

Throughout the house, the hostesses were assisted in dispensing hospitality by Mrs. H. E. Schmidt, Mrs. Frank Scott, Mrs. A. Parrett, Mrs. R. R. Grieve, Mrs. H. L. Sayre, Mrs. H. H. Jobe and Mrs. John A. North.

The nearness of St. Valentine's Day was recognized by the hostess in the ices and cake served. The former was moulded with a red heart in the center, and the cakes were heart shaped and red iced. Daintily gowned young girls pinned the red heart favors upon the gowns of the guests.

Music was furnished by the Victoria which was placed at the north end of the lower hallway.

"A REAL FRIEND" SAYS H. E. MILLS OF ROUTE FIVE

HE THUS DESCRIBES NERV-WORTH AND WITH THE BEST OF REASONS.

Another strong contribution to these Nerv-Worth endorsements which well-known home folks have been gratefully handing in to Demonstrator Brown.

Sayre & Hemphill:—A year ago last July I was overcome by heat exhaustion and from that time on I have had nervous trouble. I suffered from dizzy spells. My stomach pained me and my bowels would act too freely. I tried several doctors and many different medicines. Finally I found Nerv-Worth and I have taken not quite one bottle. My dizziness no longer bothers me and my stomach is in fine shape. Bowels are regular. I sleep better and feel better than I have for years. I can feel myself growing stronger. Nerv-Worth is a real friend. I cannot recommend it too highly. It does the work and does it quickly.

H. B. MILLS.

THEATERS

Bijou.

"The Hun Within" one of the most widely advertised and talked-of pictures that has been presented recently by Paramount-Art craft, appears at the Bijou Theater Friday and Saturday with Dorothy Gish and George Fawcett in the leading roles.

Orpheum.

How droll! A matinee idol and the idol of the town, Montague Booth finds himself down and out, and with the little girl who has saved his life he takes to the road, as a patent medicine salesman of "Oldson's Death Defying Pellets."

This is the clever and original theme back of "The Atom" a triangle production with Pauline Starke and Harry Mestayer in the leading roles which comes to the Orpheum Theater Friday. The cute mannerisms and whimsicalities of Pauline Starke are adorable in this production and she is well supported.
